AGING & TECHNOLOGY 2017 ANNUAL CONFERENCE

September 29, 2017 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.
Keizer Community Center - Keizer, OR

$30 Students and honored attendees aged 65+

$60 Members

$90 Non-members

Plenary speakers include:

Dr. Rob Winningham, Western Oregon University

Dr. Jeffrey Kaye, Oregon Health & Science University

Gordon Hoffman, Northwest Technology Ventures

The Oregon Gerontological Association's 2017 conference will focus on how technology is meeting the needs of older Oregonians, as well as how technology offers an avenue for elder empowerment and recognition in the community as assets. The full day program is expected to draw 150+ attendees who are part of the broad aging network of professionals, educators, advocates, and service providers. Keynote presentations will address new approaches to brain health, technology and monitoring in the home, and how self-driving cars can support population aging. We hope to offer CEUs — certification is pending.

To register, please go to:
oregongero.org/event-2550158

OREGON GERONTOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION